HOSPITAL IS A FINE BUILDING

WEST LINCOLN MEMORIAL HOSPITAL IS NOW IN FULL OPERATION

No efforts have been spared to make the new West Lincoln Memorial Hospital completely modern and well-equipped. The hospital opened on Sunday, has 29 beds, 14 bassinets and three children's cribs. Here, at top left, is a bright private room in the surgical wing. Modern, comfortable beds, private wash room, latest furniture, and cheery drapes made by the ladies' auxiliary do their part to promote speedy recovery of the patient. At right is a semi-private room, also with the same style of furnishings, and a rod for the curtain to add privacy. Lucky is the baby who arrives at the West Lincoln Hospital. Below, Assistant Superintendent Grace Lewis is shown in one of the cubicles in the nursery, where each baby has its own little room. Beside the crib is a cupboard of metal and stainless steel, with a thick rubber pad on which the new arrival may be bathed. — Cut courtesy St. Catharines Standard.

Wm. Brocklebank Of Grimsby, Stages Hold-Up In St. Catharines — Arrested A Few Minutes Later.

(St. Catharines Standard)
No bail was allowed Tuesday for William Brocklebank, 22, of 76 Ontario Street, Grimsby, charged in connection with the cap pistol hold-up of the Waverley Club on St. Paul Street Monday night. "I lost $96 playing poker in here two weeks ago, and I just did it to get revenge," the accused man is reported to have said. He was remanded Tuesday morning for trial on November 1.
Shortly after 9 Monday night, Brocklebank is alleged to have walked into the Waverley Club where the members were "just sitting around reading the paper and playing snooker." He was not a member of the club, and members said they had never seen him before.
Pointing a pistol from his pocket Brocklebank is said to have taken $21 from the crowd. At gunpoint, he forced Sammy, Chicagoan to go with him as a shield, and walked down St. Paul Street in the midst of the crowds of theatre-goers, according to witnesses of the affair.

DEDICATION ADDRESS AT HOSPITAL OPENING

"This Hospital Stands As A Symbol Of A Way Of Life Which Has Its Roots In God."

The following Dedication Address was delivered by Rev. R. Leonard Griffith, of Trinity United Church, at the opening of the new West Lincoln Memorial Hospital on Sunday afternoon last.

This is a proud day for the County of Lincoln. Two years ago when the old West Lincoln Memorial Hospital lay in ruins, we all felt the loss of something which we had come to regard as indispensable. Since then, however, the course of events has been a miniature of mankind's history—vision, resourcefulness, and sacrifice rising above the ruins of the old to greater heights than before. One hesitates to say that the loss of our other hospital was a stroke of disguised good fortune, but one can

NEW HOSPITAL SERVES A LARGE TERRITORY

All Municipalities Are In Lincoln County Except East End Of Saltfleet Which Is In Wentworth.

At various times in the past few months The Independent has been queried as to just what territory West Lincoln Memorial hospital actually served.

West Lincoln hospital serves all the people from Jordan to Fruitland, and south to Caistor and Gainsboro. It is called West Lincoln because it is situated in the western half of the County of Lincoln, but it also serves that portion of Saltfleet Township, in the County of Wentworth from the Lincoln-Wentworth county line west to Fruitland.

No Less Than 12 Reporters And Photographers On The Job — The Independent Worked Four Men.

Estimated to have been the largest crowd to assemble in one place since way back in 1921 when the Old Boys Reunion was held, gathered at the West Lincoln Memorial Hospital on Sunday afternoon. Parking was a major problem but was handled very capably by several members of the Grimsby Junior Chamber of Commerce. Cars were parked almost half a

At the Dedication of West Lincoln Memorial Hospital on Sunday afternoon Mr. F. V. Smith announced that a very lengthy letter of appreciation had been received from Hon. Paul Martin, Minister of Health and Welfare in the Dominion government and he also read the following telegram that had been received from Mr. Martin, by Mr. Globe. This telegram was from New York where Mr. Martin was attending U.N. conferences.

May I express my sincere thanks for the kind invitation extended to me to be present at the opening of the West Lincoln Memorial Hospital. I am sure that the people of your community welcome this improvement.

INSPECTED BY OVER 5,000 PEOPLE SUNDAY

There Is No Institution Of Its Kind That Is Any Better Equipped For Efficient Service — Building Is Of Most Modern Construction And Contains Many Wonderful Features.

By (Gordon McGregor)

While the leaves of the maples fluttered to the rich soil of West Lincoln County, over five thousand people, most of whom had a personal interest in the proceedings of this bright fall Sunday, entered this institution which has risen from the very heart of a peach orchard, and gave their thanks for the community spirit that has made possible the building a hospital—their hospital.

It is not often that the opening and dedication of a building has such a personal interest as was the opening of this new and truly great West Lincoln Memorial Hospital. Contained in its rooms are the dollars and cents, the thousands of hours of work and the overall sense that herein lies the result of a truly great effort put forth by a great many public minded citizens, organizations and service clubs.

WEST LINCOLN PEOPLE HAVE FINE MEMORIAL

Citizens Should Give Great Thanks That They Have Such A Magnificent And Efficient Hospital.

At the dedication ceremonies of the new West Lincoln Memorial Hospital on Sunday last, Mr. P. V. Smith, Master of Ceremonies addressed the great throng of people as follows:
Ladies and Gentlemen,
We are assembled today to dedicate the new West Lincoln Memorial Hospital for the full purpose of its great destiny in our fine community. About eighteen months ago the first West Lincoln Memorial Hospital was reduced to ruins by the ravages of fire. One year ago the corner stone of this new and magnificent building was laid. Since that time great effort has been made to build and equip this institution. Large amounts of material, labour and human energy have been applied in the building of this edifice of mercy. Many have contributed money, and labour to

A PEACH OF A PEACH

A better mousetrap may bring people beating a path to the door to get it, but there is a story about a better peach that didn't. And it is our own Niagara peach, than which there is none better, thinks the Hamilton Spectator.

Now if our Niagara peaches are about to shine in a more expansive publicity and market than they did before it is because of British Columbia, where they may not grow quite so good a peach (we say this in a purely abstract way) but have had more pep, vision and ideas about selling it. Which softens what comes now.

Because a British Columbia M.P. has come out with an atomic confession that "although it is heresy for a British Columbian to say so, these (Niagara) peaches are beyond doubt the finest peaches I have ever tasted." Then from a Saskatchewan member: "They are the best peaches I have had the pleasure of eating, and you are perfectly at liberty to use this letter as against Mr. Cruickshank of Okanagan." It is almost as if a westerner had announced that Ontario girls have better dispositions than their sisters out on the coast.

To give credit where due, Mr. Cruickshank is to thank for these rosy commendations. Mr. Cruickshank used to see that Hon. Members were so treated to handsome B.C. peaches that they had—or could have had—the juice running out of their ears. Ontario peaches? Who ever heard of them?

A St. Catharines member finally got to work and some magnificent Lincoln County peaches arrived in Parliament, in newspaper offices (including ours) and other points of native interest. They were choice—no doubt of that; they might have been crossed with cantaloupe. Their virtue was no longer hidden under a bushel basket.

British Columbia growers had indeed developed such a splendid system of grading and packing that they were getting the edge on the often superior Ontario peach, which for quality and taste is unequalled. Now this has all been changed.

Maybe the honours are divided.

BELL TELEPHONE RATES

It is popular to oppose an application for an increase in rates to the public by a public utility corporation; it is unpopular to support such an application. In neither attitude is there a fair and just approach to an equitable settlement.

The Mayor of Toronto has declared that the Bell Telephone Company must show that it is losing money in Toronto before there will be any approval of the rate increase, as applied for by that company. In other words, Toronto stands by itself and has no regard for telephone service elsewhere. The view expressed by Mayor McCallum is strictly Toronto; on the sport pages in times past there has been another name for it.

The application of the company for higher rates is based on these reasons:

1. An increase in wage costs from $16,828,845 in 1939 to $60,000,00 estimated for 1949.
2. An increase in plant investment per telephone from $236 in 1946 to $282 in 1949. There are about 1,500,000 telephones operated by the system, making a total increase of about $69,000,000.
3. Claim that net income in 1949 will fall short of dividend requirements by $4,700,000, making it necessary to dip into the corporate surplus fund of $12,500,000. It is contended the company's essential capital program over the next three years, estimated at $141,000,000 demands a rate structure adequate to support additional capital.

It will be interesting to note what points will be made in briefs opposing rate increase, and certainly there will be such briefs submitted.

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada is unquestionably one of the best managed in the world. It has a fine labor-management record, and in the matter of service, there has been an amazing improvement in recent years, in fact, an amazing performance. These factors should redound in the company's favor.

Mayor McCallum of Toronto is willing to state on Friday: "Toronto is willing to pay its own way at any time. But there is no reason why we should have to subsidize other parts of the country." Take away the telephone business from "other parts of the country" with Toronto and let the Queen City live unto itself alone, and what would the result be?

The application of the Bell Telephone Company should be appraised on its business merits or demerits. It will be a sad day for the Canadian business structure as a whole if every company finding new revenue necessary for expansion and contingent reserves must show itself in the red on the books, before it is able to secure such new revenue.

HUNTERS' RULES

Nearly every pheasant season in the Niagara Peninsula there is a gun accident of some kind. In the north there is an annual toll. In every case, the accident is avoidable. The National Safety Council in the United States, on the eve of the fall hunting season, has come out with sensible rules for everyone:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.
2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your auto camp and home.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble.

5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
7. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.
8. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

To experienced hunters, the foregoing rules are a matter of ingrained habit from long experience. In the great majority of cases, the danger comes from the novice.

FASHIONS CHANGE IN FOOD

That fashions change in food as well as in raiment was disclosed at the recent Ontario Foods Convention when one of the speakers declared that Canadians could not be induced to buy fat with their meat. Time was when the Sunday roast in every Canadian home produced a bowl of dripping to provide toothsome slices of bread and drip-pan for the youngsters and an unparalleled shortening for cakes. No one who hasn't dug down to the dark, palate tickling residue of a bowl of dripping knows what dripping really is.

Nowadays there are few homes that see even a trace of dripping from one year's end to the other. Inquiries reveal that few butchers carry fat meat because they say there is no demand for it. They say that due to dieting or for other reasons, eighty-five per cent. of the housewives turn up their noses at it.

The preference for lean meat was doubtless encouraged during the war years when fat was needed for national purposes. Under war controls all internal fat and suet was removed from carcasses at the abattoir, before they were delivered to the butchers. That is still being done for the production of margarine and shortening. The kidneys were removed, too, and though these are available now, they have to be bought separately; they no longer go with the joint.

What this change in meat fashions has done to the food value of the Sunday roast, deponent sayeth not. All that can be said is that Canadian taste appears to travel with Jack Sprat rather than with his wife.

THE OLD CIDER PRESS

In earlier days, there would be several cider presses in each rural community. Our pioneers were not wasteful people. They used all wind-falls, or other apples which would all wind-falls, or other apples which would not keep, either for making dried apples or not keep. And if anything was nicer than a good dried apple pie, it would be a drink of nice cool cider from the cellar.

We don't know why the practice died out. We can't imagine that folks just suddenly lost their taste for this delicious liquid. But there are few cider mills in Ontario now. And because of it, in orchards throughout the province apples are allowed to rot on the ground—not just a few apples but literally barrels of them.

A new truth is a truth, an old error is an error.
You can have cranberry sauce with the turkey this Christmas, if you have the turkey.
Zoot suits themselves aren't so bad; it's the materials in them.

CHEQUE-KITING GENTLE ART

(Condensed from Banking Law Journal)

The gentle art of cheque-kiting was probably introduced a day after cheque writing became a legal method of conducting financial transactions. The kiting of cheques is, in a nutshell, a devious but widely practised means of making $1—or $14,000,000 grow (temporarily) where none grew before.

In its simplest form, as indulged, for example, by housewives who are a little short of the COD grocery bill, cheque-kiting works this way: Mrs. A, who expects a $9.75 order any minute, has two one-dollar bills in her purse until Friday, and a $1.35 bank account. She telephones Mrs. B, an old partner-in-kiting.

"My dear," says Mrs. A, "I've got to write a cheque. Can you let me have your cheque for $10 to deposit on my account?"

"Of course," answers Mrs. B. "Naturally, I haven't got that much in my account, but I'll see if I can get Mrs. C to cover up for me."

When the grocery deposits Mrs. A's cheque, it's quite good, thanks to Mrs. B's cheque. Mrs. A's bank clears Mrs. B's cheque, that is good also, due to Mrs. C's cheque, which has meanwhile been deposited in Mrs. B's account. To keep the three ladies out of trouble, of course, Mrs. A must come through with the cash to prevent Mrs. C's cheque from bouncing. But, with luck, the non-existent $10 will be in circulation for as long as nine days due to the time-lag in depositing and clearing cheques through three banks before the actual cash need be laid on the line.

Of course, that kind of kiting is small-time stuff. Kiting as a major operation can go much, much higher. In fact, the figure of $14,000,000 was not mentioned at random. One man actually succeeded in kiting cheques for that total. This is the story of the super-kiter.

He was a wealthy Virginia dairy farmer who wanted to become wealthier. To this end, he drew large cheques on a Fredericksburg bank in which he had a small account. What happened next is as clearly told in the words of the United States Court of Appeal judge as in any other language:

"As the above-described cheques were presented to the bank for payment, the farmer, to keep his account in apparent order, deposited cheques drawn by him on the banks in which he had little or no funds, he then deposited in those banks cheques on still other banks in which he had little or no funds. Thus, he was said to have engaged in a round-and-round cheque-kiting scheme over a period of months. The evidence showed that the total entered as deposits in the various banks under this plan was $14,775,706.01."

Since all cheque-kiting has to have a day of reckoning, it would appear that the ambitious dairyman had merely built up a paper fortune which was bound to fall on its face eventually. But he had thought up an ingenious scheme for hanging on to part of his self-created wealth.

With his temporary balances he bought equities in real estate valued at $1,600,000; and, using that as security, borrowed $1,000,000 from a life insurance company, with which he paid off his debts and balanced his bank accounts.

The dairyman, however, was not content with his apparent success. The whole thing looked too easy. He bought more real estate and was negotiating for a $750,000 loan from the same insurance company when Nemesis, in the form of the Federal Income Tax Bureau, took a hand. Internal revenue agents demanded $1,800,000 in income tax. The insurance company promptly withdrew from the loan negotiations, and the whole plan came to light.

The dairyman was prosecuted, but not for kiting cheques. He was charged with "aiding and abetting a bank officer (in the Fredericksburg bank) in misapplication of funds."

The kiter protested that "the evidence was so technical and confused that it was impossible for a jury to render an unbiased verdict."

Whereupon the judge issued a classical reply, which should be heeded by schemers in general, and cheque-kitters in particular:

"When a person participates in a devious scheme of fraud involving complicated manoeuvres in modern business, he can hardly complain that the proof of his guilt is complex."

SONG FOR SAWMILL

Mill whistle splits the startled dawn with white,
White plume of steam against rose-orange morning sky.
And up there in faded sky-blue overalls,
Swinging identical lunch-pails, the workmen hurry by.

Now, like a ruble of tympani the fan-belts whir,
The orphans all tuned, the symphony of day begins;
Shrill tenor seam of tip-saw and alto whine of plane
Cross-weave thrum fugal counterpoint from sun to sun.

Fragrance of icy balsam, yellow pine, and cottonwood
Impinges perfunctory shimmer of golden sawdust on us;
Noon is intermission and the startling hush.
The pauper players, as indicated in the program notes.

Down-river drift the logs in never-ending stream
And out freight-slides the minted timbers flow;
Meanwhile in gn silence of far green northern woods,
Skyward toward and song the young green sap's grow.

I found out something last week. The great unwashed public reads Main Street. I asked the question, "Where is Glen Huron?" I had no less than 166 telephone calls and personal answers between 10.30 a.m. Thursday, when the paper was hot off the press, until 10.30 p.m. and then on Friday evening I had a call from my old school girl pal, (incidentally, she is a widow) Rhea Muir of Toronto. Rhea is known internationally as the "Sweetheart of The Highways," owing to the fact that she is one of the oldest and best liked employees of the Ontario Motor League and has been a big power on the part of the OML in developing tourist trade to Ontario. She gives me the information, which nobody else did, that Glen Huron is on King's Highway Number 91.

This question was prompted by the fact that Jimmy O'Brien, President of the Jaycees, married a Glen Huron girl, and that burg has always been noted for its beautiful girls, and I should know, for I had 11 girl cousins come out of that little hamlet and they certainly were all beautiful, fine women.

At the time that Gordon McGregor was getting information from the Jaycee proxy for the underliner underneath his picture that appeared in our issue of October 13th, I heard the words Glen Huron mentioned, being a good editor, I cocked my ear and asked Jimmy "How come you know about Glen Huron?" He answered, "My wife comes from Glen Huron." I replied she must be a beauty for my Ma comes from Glen Huron. Then searching for copy for this column I struck upon the idea of asking the question "Where is Glen Huron?" I have found out and I am surprised that there are so many people in this district that know where that beautiful little spot is.

Now you know that it is on Number 91 Highway. It is also on Lot 17, Concession Eight of the Township of Nottawasaga, 10 miles south of Collingwood and it sits in between two hills, closer together, much similar to Grimsby sitting in between Palmer's Hill and Anderson's Hill. It has no railroad station but is on the line of the old Grand Trunk from Beeton to Collingwood. That old mixed train, two up and two down, per day, was known as the "Hissey Hog Special." The station is known as Smithdale, named after the pioneer Smith family in that district, of which C. Bert Smith, Editor of The Creemore Star, is a descendant, and I believe still owns the old original Smith Homestead.

I run that question to kid Jimmy O'Brien. I got hooked for a subscription, but I found out that the people were reading Main Street. Look out for a lot more free questions. When I asked that question I knew as much about Glen Huron as Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. "Postmistress" Bernard of Winona knew, but I never had any idea that so many other people knew. I knew, because my Grandfather John Trew pioneered on the Eighth Line of good old Nottawasaga on the edge of Glen Huron and Ma was born there. My late Pa was born on the Sixth Line at Dumfries, only five miles away. But I sure was flabbergasted with all the answers I got, which speaks well for the beautiful girls that are raised in Glen Huron and for the wonderful trout streams that are in that district and brother, those trout streams are wonderful. I could tell you a lot of stories about them when I was a kid playing around them when I was summer holidaying with my late Grandma and Grandpa. Especially about the old Flewies Mill Dam in Creemore.

Well, folks, James Dunham, super-duper traveler for the Clarence W. Lewis and Son Co., took down the first prize money. Effervescent Jimmy, blowing like a whale, just coming to the surface, tore into the office and stated, between wheezes, "I'll tell you where Glen Huron is." He did and had his subscription raised up one year. Then the calls started to come in. To me it is a joy. To the office staff it is a nightmare.

Travel is a great educator. Up in that Glen Huron country are some of the finest apple orchards in Canada, if not in the world. Those growers in their wisdom use Hardie Spraying Equipment and nothing else. Two years ago, before Jimmy joined the staff of Lewis and Son, and went into that Glen Huron apple district and got lost on his first trip, probably down Madill's Road on the cut-off to Dumfries, he didn't know any more about Glen Huron than I know about Skrykowsky, Russia, right now. At any rate, Jimmy, you beat the gun.

HERE'S A QUESTION—Who was the old Head Public School Teacher—they were not known in those days as "Principals"—that always wore a grey suit and a Christmas hat. This is not out of my time. I went to school to him. I never was strapped by him. I was too small. Here's a lead. "Hepple" was the one that always strapped me. I needed it. To the first person that notifies The Independent who this school teacher was they will receive a one year's subscription to Lincoln's Leading Weekly for Free. Thanks a lot, folks, for reading this column.

WEST LINCOLN PEOPLE

build for the citizens of West Lincoln a lasting memorial and an efficient hospital. To all of these great thanks are due from all the citizens of West Lincoln and especially from those who will be privileged to use the facilities provided in this building. Citizens of future generations too will rise up and bless you for the great benefits to be derived from this, the new West Lincoln Memorial Hospital.

Ladies and Gentlemen, we approach this hour of dedication with thankful and humble hearts trusting that all the hopes of those who have laboured to erect this hospital may be realized to the full in the merciful benefits which this institution shall provide for the sick of the community in the days that are to come.

HOSPITAL FINE BUILDING

The building of a hospital to serve the needs of West Lincoln is a story involving seven years of planning, temporary success, heartbreak and a second chapter that finally brings a story-book finish to a task well done by many. West Lincoln Memorial is truly a story of great effort and certainly a memorial to stand through the years. The service to be rendered by this hospital will be carried on through the years as a lasting memorial to a great many who have accomplished a great deal.

Although a few minor items are still to be completed, the tour throughout the three wings of the building adequately displayed to all that this modern hospital is well equipped to care for the needs of those requiring hospitalization. A visitor's first impression was the size of the building, which cannot be garnered from the outside. As the corridors became congested with hundreds of people, the vastness of the building became apparent, and yet as you strolled throughout, you were quite aware of the compactness and design for efficiency that has been put into this hospital.

Entering the main entrance, the business office and the office of the superintendent adjoin the foyer, while on the other side stands a small but compact laboratory. Undoubtedly one of the first features however, is the blackened plaque that was salvaged from "the hospital-on-the-hill". This simple plaque is a quiet reminder of the great deeds accomplished that dark January day as over $25,000 worth of valuable equipment was salvaged from the doomed building.

This writer was escorted throughout the new hospital by Miss H. D. MacRobbie, a woman whose life has been dedicated to the nursing profession, and certainly a person in whom West Lincoln can place their every confidence as she prepares to supervise this hospital of the people.

Miss MacRobbie was extremely proud of the first West Lincoln and its destruction by fire was a great personal loss to her. She is a person blessed with the facility of being able to bounce right back, and her remarkable achievements in operating at Nixon Hall more than ever stress her capabilities. Miss MacRobbie along with many others deserve the reward they now have in this greater West Lincoln Memorial Hospital.

And the nurses of the staff, ten general duty and three special department heads, they too deserve much credit, for many of them have turned down other positions in order to stay and serve in West Lincoln.

The thirty-four bed hospital has been outfitted to perfection. Its rooms are bright and cheery, with delicate pastel colors blending well with the most up-to-date hospital equipment available. Each room has a clothes closet, two bed wards having a separate closet for each patient. Fine taste was shown in the selection of drapes for the wide windows, this particular item catching the eye of the women visitors on dedication day.

There is an isolation room, a delivery room, and also in this department the equipment for sterilization and the cleaning of instruments. Two operating rooms are available, one for major surgery, measures 20x16, while the emergency room adjoins the X-Ray department. The hospital is as well equipped as any city hospital take care of the needs of the patient mother the sick and injured of this area.

A nursery containing twelve cubicles is a fine feature of the hospital, and is designed for the best care of new born infants. This nursery which will be the home for countless newcomers to West Lincoln brought tears to the eyes of one woman, a woman who in the past has helped bring many babies into the world. For future reference, fathers may note that the customary window has been installed for the proud father to get his first look at his new son or daughter.

The floors throughout the hospital are ideal, terrazzo floors predominate in the spacious corridors, while heavy linoleum has been placed in the rooms.

"A vision of stainless steel" amply describes the large kitchen which has been designed for utmost efficiency.

Other departments include the nurses dining room, a dining room for the maintenance staff, and a fine room complete with shower for the doctors on duty at the hospital.

The building also contains an air circulating system, and is heated by a Livingston Stoker. Piped oxygen will be available in all rooms, this advantage considered one of the more modern advantages in hospital design.

The basement of the hospital is for the most part not completed. It can easily be transformed into additional wards should the occasion arise. The heating plant, laundry, kitchen storage and other storage facilities are contained in the basement as it stands now preparatory to actual operation.

Bicycles have been in use for about one hundred years.

So-called "closet dramas" are those designed to be read, but not acted.

The Smooth Dodge Ride starts with the

Dodge Dependability

DRIVE A NEW DODGE and one of the first things you'll notice is its riding smoothness. It's something more than the result of luxurious upholstery and "knee-level" seating comfort — it starts with the chassis.

In addition, the Dodge chassis has the ruggedness which assures you long, trouble-free life — famous as Dodge Dependability.

That's just part of the extra value which makes your Dodge dollar a bigger dollar.

Take a look at what Dodge gives you in beauty, roominess and performance. There's extra head and leg room, front and back... flashing performance of the powerful Dodge engine... extra smoothness of Fluid Drive on Custom models... and many other outstanding comfort, safety and performance features.

Let your Dodge dealer tell you why you'll drive more smoothly with Dodge... and how your dollars will go farther.

RUBBER INSULATION is a substantial contributor to the famous Dodge Floating Ride. There are soft, thick rubber cushions at all points of contact between the body and chassis. In addition, rubber limit bumpers on the springs eliminate hard metal-to-metal spring contact even under the most severe road conditions.

SHOCK ABSORBERS of "sea-leg" type are mounted on the rear axle to counteract side-sway. Dodge airplane-type double-action shock absorbers, front and rear, "rub out" road irregularities. Shock absorbers on the new Dodge have been raised 5 inches as added protection against flying stones and dirt.

INDEPENDENT FRONT WHEEL SUSPENSION allows each front wheel literally to "step over" obstructions without transmitting the jar to the body. These independent coil springs are of tough Amola steel.

FRAME CONSTRUCTION is box-type of double-channel, welded steel to give great stability, safety and long life. Front and rear bumpers are attached to the frame, the front bumper having a reinforcement plate for greater strength.

BALANCED WEIGHT DISTRIBUTION is an important factor in the smooth Dodge ride. The Dodge engine is located over the front axle and the rear seat is ahead of the rear wheels. The result is a car which holds the road and handles safely and easily. All passengers are cradled between the front and rear wheels where the ride is smoothest.

DEDICATION ADDRESS

say with truth that the erection of this magnificent little structure has led to the writing of a new chapter in county solidarity and public service. We all feel a keen sense of gratitude to those unselfish, public-spirited men and women whose wise leadership has made this achievement possible.

It is highly fitting that this dedication ceremony should be of a religious nature. The difference between medicine and religion is about as wide as the edge of a scalpel. One of the most basic religious problems of man is the problem of evil, and nothing can bring a man closer to this problem than sickness in himself or his loved ones. The occupation of medicine is to lead a man from that which is evil to that which is good. What could be closer to the fundamental task of religion? As far as Christianity is concerned, it asserts that human personality is sacred, that everything eroding that personality is evil and must be restrained, and that everything possible must be done to glorify it and ensure its well-being in body and mind and spirit.

So the motivation of medical practice is fundamentally religious and specifically Christian. The doctor on his rounds each day is a man with faith in the goodness of life. He has made up his mind to an ethico-religious decision — that goodness is worth working for, that evil is to be worked against. The fact that this moral concern motivates the art of healing has brought Christians into the practice of it from the earliest days of the Christian era. Jesus himself healed the sick, the blind, the lame; St. Luke was a physician. Across the years it has been the Church that has healed the sick and cultivated the skills of medical practice. In the Middle Ages its monasteries and institutions became known as places where "hospitality" was extended to all who suffered. Hence the word "hospital." The whole hospital movement owes its origin to the Christian Church. The first formal instruction in medicine which joined an ancient art to the scientific method was centred in Church-inspired universities. The profession of nursing was unknown to the non-European world until the missionaries came; it too owes its origin to the Church. The advance of medicine around the world is a fruit of the Christian tree. It was the Church of Europe and America that introduced scientific medicine to Africa and the Orient and has been responsible in a large part for its development. It is worth noting that the heights of medical science have been reached in Christian civilizations, the least medical progress made in lands farthest from Christian influence.

From this we draw two inescapable implications. First, that only as we build and support hospitals can we perpetuate Christianity. The Bible tells us that "faith without works is dead." Ours is a Christian country, at least nominally, so. Our laws, our form of government, our institutions, our customs are a product of nineteenth centuries of Christian influence. If we would keep them alive, the Christianity we profess must find practical expression in such agencies of human service as the one we are dedicating today. Only as we build and support hospitals can we perpetuate Christianity. The converse is equally true. Only as we perpetuate Christianity shall we continue to build and support hospitals. Ours is a Christian civilization, but it stands in danger of becoming a cut-flower civilization, a civilization torn from its roots whose ultimate end can only be death. This hospital stands as a symbol of a way of life which has its roots in God, Discard God, and the Way of Life must surely perish.

U.S. TOMATOES

The recent Canadian government ruling allowing unrestricted quotas on fresh fruit and vegetables imported from the United States affected the entire Canadian tomato-growing fraternity, all the way from Quebec to British Columbia and both field crops and greenhouse production, Mr. Bonham stated.

"Last year the Canadian importers couldn't bring them over before Nov. 1," Mr. Bonham said, "but this year it is different. Canadian growers can supply the Canadian market right up to Dec. 1 and there shouldn't be any imports allowed until after that date."

Stressing that American tomatoes which had to be shipped long distances, were picked green and not properly matured, Mr. Bonham said there was no comparison in quality with Canadian-grown tomatoes. American tomatoes are tough and the centre was often hollow, showing they had not had full time to fill out, while Canadian tomatoes were firm, properly ripened and much better in taste.

Contrary to the ideas held by many Canadians, tomatoes in Canada are picked until late in the season. After the first killing frost, the picking stops and what tomatoes are still on hand are taken into ripening cellars to ready them for shipping. The growers are still busy harvesting this year's big crop and with the late frost a bumper crop is still going to market. "But it is getting tougher and tougher to market them," Mr. Bonham declared. "Not all the wholesalers are bringing in United States tomatoes. White and Co. of Toronto, where I have been dealing for years, won't touch them until after the Canadian crop is finished, but a lot of others do. They make a killing by buying them cheap, packaging them in Canada and then selling them to the exclusion of our own crops."

"I am not denying the Canadian people the right to buy as cheaply as they can, but if inferior tomatoes are the only ones wholesalers will push, while choice quality Canadian tomatoes go begging at lower prices because the wholesalers won't push them, the Canadian farmer may as well quit growing them."

With 25 acres in tomatoes, making him one of the biggest growers in Ontario, Mr. Bonham has cause for worry. It is always the last of the crop which means the difference between a profit or a loss on the year's activities.

Anxious to give the best in value, Mr. Bonham and other growers grade their tomatoes, often having to handle them 10 times in the sorting process so that they will be the proper maturity for shipping as well as being the right size without blemishes. They ship the fancy quality tomatoes either in cellophane packages weighing about a pound, or in cartons, each tomato individually wrapped. It is an expensive operation, but appearance and quality are top grade.

Import duty on tomatoes was set at a percentage of their price in the United States, Mr. Bonham said. While this was a certain protection, it did not prevent importers from bringing them over at a very cheap price when they could buy them at dumping prices. One solution, he thought, would be to make the duty payable on weight, as it is done with peaches. But, he continued, "there shouldn't be any allowed into the country until the Canadian crop is marketed."

With the new import regulations put into force recently, Canadian farmers growing fruit and vegetables would be faced with a real problem next year. Mr. Bonham declared. The regulations went into effect too late this year to cause really serious upsets in all but the tomato market, he said, but that wouldn't be the case in 1950.

PRESENTATIONS MADE

Reid, of Beamsville on behalf of the elected members of the Board of Directors.

To Mr. A. R. Globe, President, West Lincoln Memorial Hospital, Grimsby, Ontario.

Abraham Lincoln once stated "I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives; and so live that the place will be proud of him."

Your elected associates on the Board of our Hospital are sure these words of President Lincoln fit in every respect your relationship to us personally, as well as every department of the whole organization you have built to run this beautiful building just dedicated.

Not only have we been proud to be your lieutenants in this project, but share with the whole community the benefits of your telling efforts for good over all the years you have planned and worked to make this part of the which to live. It was teamwork with your leadership that created the first hospital and made it such a success.

The destruction of that little gem only strengthened your purpose and now to-day you have presented to this community of West Lincoln a building and staff beyond the dreams of earlier days.

It was you who watched with careful eye every phase of the work. No other person had the experience, patience and dogged determination to get the job done at a price we could afford to pay.

You have delivered to-day a working unit equal to anything of its type in the Province, and at a price fully $2000.00 per bed below current costs.

We, your close associates, have watched with growing concern the lavish expenditure of your time and strength as the building slowly became perfected, and are devoutly thankful that your health has stood up under the strain.

We should like to wish for you and Mrs. Globe many years of good health, high spirits and growing satisfaction as you watch the child of your dreams function on that high plane you yourself have lived and worked ever since you came among us.

Will you please accept this wee token of our unbounded respect and affection.

Signed:

Bruce H. Reid

BROCKLEBANK

At the corner of King and Chestnut Streets, only a block from the club, Constable Frank Book, spotted Brocklebank with his pistol in the ribs of his human shield. Drawing his own revolver, Constable Book advanced on Brocklebank, calling to him to surrender. He gave up without a struggle.

The weapon found on Brocklebank was a flashy, toy cap pistol, with a pearl handle. It would not fire the toy caps with which it was loaded.

The Waverley Club is a social club on the second storey of the building opposite the Fire Hall. About 18 members and friends were present when Brocklebank entered.

"He just hung around for a few minutes," said George Kalagian, of 225 Ontario Street, "and we didn't pay any attention to him. Then he said, 'All right, this is a stickup.' He had his hand in his pocket, and was pointing something at us. He herded us all together at one end of the room, and the called over Sammy Chicagian."

"He stuck his gun in Sammy's back, and said, 'Get all your stuff on the table, and if anyone makes a move this guy'll get it. And I'm a deadshot.' He made us put our money, rings and watches on the pool table. Then he gave a dollar back to some of us and he gave a ten-dollar bill back to one of the others and said it could be used for taxi fare for us. He gave us back the rings and watches. He was only after the bigger stuff."

One man is reported to have had more than $300 in his possession at the time, but he only threw $1 on the table.

About fifty yards from the scene of the robbery, Brocklebank is alleged to have taken Chicagian down Chestnut street, and ordered him to count the loot. It amounted to $21. "Is that all there is?" "I thought there'd be a lot more," said Brocklebank, according to Chicagian.

Police had been called by this time and with members of the club in the cruiser to spot the fugitive, Constables Earl Fare and Frank Book cruised the neighbourhood. Pedestrians told the constables that the man had gone up Chestnut Street.

Constable Fare got out at Chestnut and St. Paul and began to walk toward King, while Constable Book went around to King Street, intending to walk towards Fare so that the fugitive would be caught between them. On the corner of Chestnut and King, he saw Brocklebank, still threatening Chicagian with his pistol.

Drawing his revolver, he captured Brocklebank and took him to the police station. The formal charge against him Tuesday morning alleged that he stole $1 from Nick Tsanof, (one of the club members), by using an offensive weapon, namely, a revolver.

Counsel for the accused asked that Brocklebank be released on bail until he came up for trial on November 1. Crown Attorney E. H. Lancaster asked that no bail be granted because of the circumstances of the offense. Brocklebank will remain in custody.

The sad-faced accused stood in court on Tuesday, in a green tweed jacket and white shirt, and said nothing. No plea will be taken until November 1.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

During the 1890's in this country, burlesque shows had become so badly that their casts were frequently arrested and fined, and the theatres lost numerous patrons who no longer dared be seen entering them. To remedy these two annoyances, many a burlesque house built secret entrances and exits in the alley and installed a signal system with which the look-out who was posted in the doorway of a near-by store could warn the manager when he saw a group of policemen coming down the street.

JAYCEES FROLIC

The Jaycees Fall Frolic was one of the finest dances held in Grimsby in a number of years, and although the crowd was not as large as was expected, a fine time was had by all attending the dance, which was held in a gaily-decorated high school auditorium.

The music of Bruce Anthony drew much praise from everyone, and there is little doubt but what Mr. Anthony made himself a lot of fans through this dance. It is likely that the Jaycees will sponsor another dance in the very near future, and you can bet your bottom dollar that Anthony and his crew will be back on the bandstand.

Patrons were Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Marsh, Mayor and Mrs. C. W. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Millyard and Mr. and Mrs. William Hewson.

I.O.D.E.

The monthly business meeting of Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held on Monday evening, October 24th, in the High School Library, with the Regent, Mrs. E. A. Buckenham, presiding.

The members decided to send a letter to our local M.P., Mr. Harry P. Cavett, asking him to support Bill No. 10 to suppress Crime Comica.

Mrs. W. H. Morris, Educational Secretary, informed the Chapter that the new board, bearing the names of I.O.D.E. medallists, had been placed in the High School, through the kind assistance of Mr. Donald Aude, Principal.

Mrs. H. B. Matchett reported on the official opening of our West Lincoln Memorial Hospital on Sunday, October 23rd, and members attending had commented on the beautiful basket of flowers placed in our I.O.D.E. room through the kindness of Mr. Edward McNinch.

Miss Harriet Walsh, Empire Study Convener, reported that Mrs. J. B. Vaughan, of St. Catharines, would be present at our November meeting, and would give a talk on the Aims and Opportunities of the I.O.D.E.

Remembrance Day Services to be held on November 5th, reminded the members that those who were to help place the crosses on the graves would meet at the Independent Building where cars would be provided to take them to the cemetery. Following this, a Memorial Service will be held at the Roxy Theatre at 4 p.m., when Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, I.O.D.E. is presenting Honor Rolls of both wars to the Town and Township. All next of kin are cordially invited to this service.

The Chapter members voted to hold a Monster Bingo some time in December.

Members were asked to donate one article of good used warm clothing (no cottons) for the Dominion wide I.O.D.E. drive for clothing for Europe. Mrs. P. V. Smith will act as convener, and clothing may be left at Mr. Smith's Real Estate office from November 10th to November 20th.

Following the meeting, the members adjourned to the auditorium, where Mrs. Norman Cole gave a demonstration on 'Mums to a very appreciative audience.

NEW PLAY IS BEING REHEARSED BY GUILD

The new 1949-50 version of the Grimsby Players' Guild, much enlarged and completely reorganized is now rolling full speed ahead on its initial production of the new season. It's "The Late Christopher Bean," a three-act comedy and a good one.

According to Director Molly Lucas, a complete cast has been chosen, and rehearsals are showing a lot of talent. Complete information as to who will take part in the play, etc., will be forthcoming in next week's paper.

Dates for "The Late Christopher Bean" have been set at the 17th and 18th of November.

BIG COMMUNITY DANCE AND HOSPITAL DRAW

The annual community dance and hospital draw conducted every Spring and Fall by Mrs. M. A. Cudney of Winona to raise funds for West Lincoln Memorial Hospital will be held this Autumn at Club El Morocco on the evening of Tuesday, November 8th, and once again it promises to be a gala affair.

There will be an excellent floor show presented by talented artists from Hamilton and Grimsby, and Jack Ryan and his thirteen piece band will provide music for dancing.

A beautiful Hudson Bay blanket, a floor lamp and a table lamp will be the prizes drawn for. The entire proceeds of the evening go to West Lincoln Hospital. Tickets are $1.00 per person and dress is optional.

"LINCO" GAINS GROUND IN MEDICAL SERVICES

Now completing its first six months of operation, Lincoln Co-operative Medical Services is growing steadily in favour with the people of Lincoln County and now claims over 150 members. President Ernest Culp, Vineland Station revealed today that the Association paid its first claim a month after its inception and has been able to meet all its obligations, with a tidy surplus after its first half-year of operation.

"Linco" is a co-operative venture, operating under a provincial charter to provide medical service costs for residents of Lincoln County. Costs of hospital maintenance is provided for its members. All savings made (and indications are that they may be quite substantial) are passed on to the members, either by reduced fees or increased services. Either individuals, or groups of ten or more, may join the plan.

Claims are paid for service under the plan in any hospital, anywhere in North America. Overhead is low, since there are no agents' fees, and Linco can thereby offer more than many other plans.

Two plans are in effect, one providing bed, board and routine nursing, while the other includes the use of the operating room in addition.

BEACH WOLF CUBS

An investiture ceremony, prize awards for Apple Day baskets, competitive relays, and a true-or-false game for pennant points were all features of Friday's meeting of the Grimsby Beach Wolf Cubs.

Bruce Nelson and Ross Pyett are the boys who donated the Cub cap and neckerchief for the first time, and smilingly saluted the pack after Akela had invested them.

First prize for Apple Day baskets, which was a Cub spoon went to Bill Jackson, whose basket was decked out with rosy red apples and a Cub and Scout and the motto of each. Peter Crich's Wolf Cub and Apple-decorated basket won him the second prize, which was Kipling's "Mowgli Stories." Ross Pyett captured third prize, which was a Cub neckerchief and slide, for the animal cut-outs and fall pumpkins and fruits that made his basket so attractive.

"Book balancing" was the 1st Star test passed by Bruce Nelson, Bob Overholt, Victor Bakker, Harold Spence, Doug Durham, Byron England, Peter Crich and Ross Pyett. Bob Overholt got his 1st Star skipping.

The games played with the usual Cub pep, took place outdoors, and Akela topped the afternoon's fun with a grand story which was re-nacted by the Cubs with great enthusiasm.

Good hunting, Cubs.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES TO BE HELD SUNDAY

On Sunday, October 30th, Trinity United Church will celebrate its 116th Anniversary. As a United Church it is, of course, only twenty-four years old, but the two Churches of which it is a union are much older.

The former Methodist Church goes back to the original "Grimsby Circuit" of 1836, the Church being dedicated in 1865.

Presbyterianism in Grimsby dates back to 1801, though the original Church was not organized until 1833, the building being dedicated in 1837. Following Church Union in 1925, the former Presbyterian building, "The Brick Church" was remodelled and enlarged to be used as a place of worship for the uniting congregations. The Methodist building, which had been remodelled in 1897, and which a year ago was sold to the Ukrainian Greek Orthodox Church, became Trinity Hall, the centre of Sunday School and mid-week activities.

The former Presbyterian congregation saw seven pastores, the most significant being that of Rev. John G. Murray who served for thirty-six years. Forty-eight Superintending Pastors served the Methodist Church. Ministers since union have been as follows: Revs. George Wood, E. A. Earchman, R. B. Ferris, W. J. Watt. The present minister, Rev. Leonard A. Griffith recently accepted a Call to Chalmers United Church, Ottawa, and appropriate steps are being taken to secure a successor who will assume the pastorate on February 1, 1950.

The Church program during the past year has centred mainly around the financing and construction of the new Church Hall. This spacious, well-planned building which is to accommodate Sunday School and mid-week activities is expected to be completed early in 1950. The growth of the congregation during the past year in membership and organization has added greatly to the need of these added facilities and has proved the wisdom of this ambitious advance.

The Anniversary services this year are being conducted by the minister, Rev. A. L. Griffith. The Church choir under the direction of the new organist, Mr. R. W. Mitchell will provide special music for the occasion. Immediately following the morning service the congregation will be asked to meet for the purpose of ratifying the Official Board's action regarding the impending pulpity vacancy.

Total department store sales in Canada during the first six months of 1949 were ten per cent higher than in the same period last year.

After the closing hymn and benediction, a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. A. Hoffman and Mrs. D. Dousett.

OBITUARY

MRS. REGINALD BELL

Word has been received of the death on Thursday, October 20th, of Mrs. Reginald Bell, who had made her home with her son, Du-gald Bell, at Riverside, Ont.

Mrs. Bell was a former resident of Grimsby and lived on Robinson St., South. She was an active member of the Women's Institute and the I.O.G.E. while here.

MRS. HENRY MARSHALL

When Isaiah and Mrs. Piatt were preparing to quietly celebrate the 55th anniversary of their wedding on October 24th, there came a telegram saying Mrs. Piatt's youngest sister, Mrs. Henry Marshall, aged 94, had passed away suddenly at Ochre River, Man.

A brother, John, aged 78, died at Ochre River 13 months ago, and James M. Jackson, the eldest brother passed away on October 2nd, 1949, at the age of 85 years. Mrs. John Piatt is also a sister of the deceased.

Canada is one of the world's leaders in the export of plastic buttons.

Canada's labour force now totals more than 5,000,000 people of whom, at the end of 1947, nine hundred and twelve thousand were members of labour unions.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

Grade 10-B's personality of the week is petite Mary Sopo. Born in Chatham, she is thirteen years of age, and lived in Toronto for a year before moving to Grimsby seven years ago. Prior to entering Grimsby High School, she attended the Hagar Public School on No. 8 Highway, two miles west of Grimsby. Mary's favourite sport is basketball, while typing and P.T. are her best liked classes. Mary has travelled frequently in the U.S.A., especially in the state of Ohio. Lemon pie is her favourite food. Although she gave no reason why, she said she thought G. H. S. was swell!

SPORTS

Because of a full sports program, there were no meetings of the Dramatic, Writers' History or Athletic clubs last week.

JOKES OF THE WEEK

Scrawled at the end of an exam paper: "Views expressed on this test are my own and not necessarily those of the text book."

(N. B.—We aren't suggesting anything!)

Barber: "I can't understand what you're saying."

Customer: "But you have the sign, 'Ici On Parle Francais' on your window!"

"Well, what does that mean?"

"It means, French is spoken here."

"Oh, is that it? The fellow who painted it on my window told me it was Latin for 'God Bless Our Happy Home.'"

CLUB NEWS

Fourth Quarter: Saltfleet gained another touchdown despite a powerful drive from Lawson. Lawson was slightly injured but remained on the field. Peter Wade was also hurt later on in the quarter. The rest of the game moved slowly. Final score: 21-5 for Saltfleet.

THE TORONTO TRIP

Last Friday, Grimsby High School contributed three buses of students to the cavalcade tour of the Toronto Telegram. Rugby Playoffs at Maple Leaf Stadium, Toronto.

The funds obtained by the tour, sponsored by the Junior Executive and Council of the T. Eaton Co. and the Toronto Telegram, were donated to the Red Feather Fund. The 28 buses from Hamilton schools and schools of the vicinity met at marked locations in Dundurn Park, Hamilton. Grimsby's buses were numbers 20, 21 and 22 in the cavalcade. All 28 buses formed a parade along the Queen Elizabeth with police escort to the Stadium grounds. All students were given yellow mums, kazoos, and cheer-sheets by the T. Eaton Co. which had been picked up at the specific locality of each bus at Dundurn Park. Amidst a great variety of songs, yells and cheers, the bus drivers managed to arrive at their destination safely with the enthusiastic passengers.

Two games were played—Peterborough vs. Sarnia, final score—2-1 for Sarnia and Hamilton F.R. C. vs. York College—no score—East York winning on merited points. Despite slight showers which soon passed over, everyone had a good time. The return trip home was equally as noisy and hectic as the journey to Toronto. The buses had left Grimsby about 4:30 and arrived home at 1:00 a.m.

FOLLOWING CUSTOM

Following a custom started by their ancestors over 400 years ago, a group of descendant musicians still give five concerts daily in Naubat Hall in the royal fortress in Bidar, India. Yet they have had no audiences and the fort has been deserted and in ruins for nearly a century.

Written history is at least 6,000 years of age.

WILL CONDUCT CHILD STUDY PROGRAMME

Last winter a very successful program of child study was sponsored by the Lincoln Health Unit, and received excellent assistance from various organizations interested in child care. The attendance was far greater than anticipated, as each speaker had an audience of around 700 people.

The program for this winter should be just as good. There is no doubt because of the interest in this subject that all the thousand seats in the Collegiate Auditorium St. Catharines will be sold.

All meetings will commence at 8:15 Standard Time. There will be a question period of one half hour only.

The program for this series of lectures is as follows:

November 2nd—Dr. W. E. Blatz—"The Teacher's Responsibility in Child Training."
November 30th—Dr. J. D. M. Griffin—"Home Training of School Children."
November 16th—Mr. Jack Finlay, Supt. of Children's Aid; Dr. H. D. Mitchell, Director of Mental Health Clinics; Dr. R. A. Connor, Director of Preventive Dental Services—"Local Facilities for Child Care."

November 23rd—Dr. W. Line—"The Teacher's Responsibility in Child Training."

November 30th—Dr. J. D. M. Griffin—"Home Training of School Children."

Animals with long legs also have long necks, in order to reach their food without bending their knees.

COMING EVENTS

Friday, October 28th, the monthly meeting of the Canadian Legion is on the calendar.

Another party will be in swing also, when the Y.P. of the Fifty Church open their fall season with a Hallowe'en Party at the Sunday School Room on Saturday night.

Also on Saturday, there will be the ANNUAL HALLOWEEN PARTY for all children, young and old, boys and girls, held in the Legion Hall. The party put on each year by Boy Scout Group Committee, is a huge one, and from reports coming from youngsters who go, a successful one. There will be prizes for the best costumes of all ages, so kids, when you come to the party, come in costume! And come early, try and be there at 7 o'clock for lots of fun.

EVELYN BUDGE OPENS NURSERY SCHOOL SOON

In answer to a general appeal from many mothers throughout the district, a Nursery School will be opened in Winona November 14. It will cater to those small children of pre-school age, youngsters of four to six years.

For some time now the need for such a school has been felt, and urged by mothers. The pre-school child is a problem, especially those actually old enough to go to school, but not permitted because of their birthday falling after the opening of school.

Children will be able to attend three mornings a week, from nine to twelve o'clock, and the school will be held at the home of Miss Evelyn Budge, whose idea it was to organize such a service to mothers. Miss Budge will teach the children simple lessons such as numbers, a.b.c. story building, blocks, and many of the other "lessons from play" which children take to with so much pleasure, and which provides them with a good grounding to enter school later. Handwork is important in the work with small children, and movement in the form of games, is an essential to tots who cannot remain still for a length of time as can older children.

Mothers interested should contact Miss Budge at her home, or phone Winona 138, to learn more of this enterprise. At the present moment Miss Budge is working rapidly to become organized enough to start November 14th, in response to the mothers who have wanted her to start at once.

The school will be held in a large airy room in her home, and the problem of obtaining enough tiny tables and chairs, etc., has descended upon Miss Budge's shoulders as a major problem. Those mothers who have tables which could be converted to the needs of tots, or small chairs, or any equipment that could be used would help the project along if they could either contribute unneeded articles, sell them, or even lend them in the meantime.

COMING EVENTS

To-day, October 27th, at 2.30 p.m. the Winona Women's Institute hold their meeting at the house of Mrs. Howard Smith. Guest speaker will be Mr. Ruthford Smith, who will address the group on Indian Lore.

On Saturday, a red letter day for the community, there will be first of all the Boy Scout Apple Day drive. The Boy Scout Troop will be out in full force, with plenty of support from the Cubs. The cause is a good one, the lads put a lot of work into the day, so GET YOUR APPLE ON SATURDAY, and make the day go over the top!

WELL KNOWN FACE LIFTED AT WINONA

The Royal Bank of Winona has emerged from its years of sameness with its face lifted. This week customers used to the familiar old brown woodwork received a surprise as they stepped into a modern newly decorated office, complete with pastel walls, fluorescent lighting, appropriate furnishings, and altogether a most pleasing appearance.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT WILDLIFE CLUB

Over 175 people filled the new auditorium at Mountain View School, Fruitland, when the Saltfleet Wildlife Club met on Friday, October 21st.

The Carling Conservation Club put on an excellent program, with two films taking the interest of everyone. Shown by Mr. Fred W. Dinart, the first picture, Birdland Calling seemed especially to thrill the many children there. The second, "Expedition Moose," taken by the Carling Conservation Club, on an expedition sanctioned by the Royal Ontario Museum to study the lifetime habits of the moose, reveals much of their findings. It was a well taken and instructive film, well worth seeing.

The aspect of forming the club was reviewed, and a drive for new membership launched, with the result that 16 new members were added, swelling the membership to 35. It is hoped by the club that children especially will show an interest and join. There is much to learn, and enjoy at these meetings for them, and President G. Morton Found urged all youngsters to come. Women too are urged to join, and not to think that it is a "man's club." "It isn't," said Mr. Found, "It's for all people, male or female, young or old who love nature and want our natural wildlife to survive, and who want to see proper control of it in existence. The club is not for hunters primarily but for all nature lovers."

CAMERA CLUB'S PATRON POSES

Patron of the Windlesham Camera Club, Princess Elizabeth is shown at her Surrey home, as she made herself available to members of the club, and viewed its 1949 camera work. This photograph of the Princess was made by one of the club members as they all got together for a "no-request-refused" meeting.

vive, and who want to see proper control of it in existence. The club is not for hunters primarily but for all nature lovers.

MRS. CUDNEY SPONSORS COMMUNITY DANCE

Mrs. M. A. Cudney will sponsor an ANNUAL COMMUNITY DANCE in support of West Lincoln Memorial Hospital, on November 8th. The dance will be held at El Morocco on No. 8 Highway, to the music of Jack Ryan. There will be an excellent floor show, said Mrs. Cudney, and the loveliest of prizes. A pair of Hudson's Bay Blankets, a beautiful table lamp, and a tri-light lamp will be offered for 1st, second and third prizes in the draw. Tickets will be $1.00 each for the dance and tickets for the draw 25c each.

"The idea of the dance," explained Mrs. Cudney, "is to make up $400.00 which we need to bring the community's effort for West Lincoln Hospital to $2000.00. The district have contributed heartily through the months since the fire and have donated between $4300.00 and $4500.00." She went on to suggest that all local people interested in seeing the fine result of the district's contribution should be sure to see the room at West Lincoln given by this community. It has a plaque on the door suitably inscribed, Winona Community.

Everyone is urged to come to the dance, although the last one, little urging is needed. Those who were there last summer know the high standard of entertainment offered by such an evening. So write down November 8th as the date for the Annual Community Dance at El Morocco.

"SALADA" WINNERS AT BIG PLOWING MATCH

One of the very interesting events at the International Plowing Matches held last week at Burford, was the daily demonstration of contour plowing featured by the Ontario Agricultural College. Some Ontario Farmers already practise contour plowing. Others are studying soil conservation and investigating the benefits derived from it. By winning the Salada Tea Inter-County Plowing Match held last Friday, four Ontario boys will have a splendid opportunity to learn about agricultural conservation. These boys — Earl Bacher, Cayuga, and Robert Nixon, Hagersville, representing Haldimand County, won the first award, while E. Timbers, Milliken, and N. Watson, Woodbridge, representing York County, came second. They received the Salada Tea award of all-expense tours to the United States. They will visit some of the largest agricultural conservation projects and see for themselves what soil conservation can do for farmers who wish to follow this scientific system. Other winners were: Brant County — Bill Buck, Paris, and Carmen Porter, Oshweken; Wentworth County — T. Brathwaite, Ancaster, and G. Markel, Alberton; Waterloo County — R. SALTFLUET HIGH SLAP DOWN OUR JUNIORS

Grimsby Juniors bit the dust last Friday, as Saltfleet romped home to a 21-5 win over the injury riddled Grimsby squad. The winners had it all their own way scoring six points in the first quarter, and adding two more on a safety touch in the early stages of the second quarter. Kicking on a third down, Buster Verner received and was tackled behind the line to make it nine to nothing at half time.

Lawrence Pietrowski picked up a Saltfleet fumble in the third quarter and made a brilliant run for Grimsby's lone tally of the affair. The threat was quickly brushed off as Sopinka carried the ball from the Grimsby 45 to score a major which was converted. Saltfleet's final contribution to the worst defeat handed the locals this fall came in the final quarter when Sheen took a pass and ran it to pay territory, and the convert gave the league leaders their 21 points and a free ticket to the C.O.S.S.A. championship.

FOOTBALLERS CHAMPS AT ART OF FUMBLING

It was a case of who could out-fumble the other on the Burlington football field Tuesday afternoon, as Burlington High won their first game of the C.O.S.S.A. schedule, their victim being the two game winners of Grimsby. Despite the bolstering of the locals, they failed to make much impression against a solid Burlington line. Standing out for the Grimsby team was Butkovich who turned in a good game, and was responsible for stopping many Burlington line plunges.

Fumbles were a dime a dozen, and the Burlington kids did most of the recovering, being a bit faster to the draw as butter-fingered backs dropped the ball as if it were molten metal. Buster Verner had a bad day in the Grimsby backfield, looking bad on the receiving end of two Burlington kicks.

Broetzl's kicking kept Burlington a respectable distance from Grimsby's line, and a newcomer to the squad Jackson Johnson looked good on several line bucks and end runs.

Burlington kept the play in the Grimsby zone for a great portion of the game, and notched the only score late in the third quarter as Lakeing passed to Watson who scampered over for five points. The convert failed.

The Juniors settled for two wins against four losses during the six game schedule, but undoubtedly the freshmen learned enough to make them more potent come another football season. As it is they Broetzl's kicking kept Burlington games this fall, the first on Friday afternoon against the Ridley C squad.

If you want to look your worst for Halloween, here is an example of what can be done to frighten even Dracula. First you cram a wig on backwards, so the hair falls over the face. Then trim the locks just under the eyes, giving a sheep-dog effect. Don't worry about being able to see as you can peer through the bangs. Then draw eyes, complete with lashes, on your cheeks with an eyebrow pencil. Use nail whitening for the whites. Or, if you're not so good at drawing, cut eyes from a magazine and paste them on, and border these with eyebrow pencil lines. Lipstick the lower lip in a broader and fuller pattern than usual. But make the rouging of the upper lip thin to the point of near invisibility.

By 1700, export trade in ship-building materials was carried on with the West Indies. After 1760, sailing vessels brought the stormy Atlantic to carry New Brunswick timber to England for the ships of the British Navy. Canada took the lead in forest industry.

Lumbering opened up vast new areas along the St. Lawrence and the Ottawa valley. In 1803, Canada's first pulp mill was erected at Argenteuil, Quebec.
There followed a rapidly expanding demand for pulpwood and newsprint.
By 1900, Canada was supplying a major portion of the world's needs.

Today Canadian production of newsprint is greater than the combined output of the next five leading countries.
4,800,000 tons were produced in 1947.
Research has led to the development of other wood products, such as cellulose, rayon and plastics. This rapid growth points to a wide future for Canadians.

HOCKEY GETS A SETBACK IN GRIMSBY

With the announcement last week by officials of the Dawes Black Horse Brewing Co., of Montreal, that John Ritchie McVicar had been promoted as Assistant to the General Manager of Ontario of the company, hockey in Grimsby received a terrible setback.

While Old Pop was not going to be the active coach of the Peach Kings this winter, on account of health reasons, still he was the man behind the gun in building the team for the current season and intended to act in the capacity of advisory coach. That is all water down the Old Forty now.

In his new position Pop will leave Grimsby every Monday morning at seven o'clock and will not be back in the Peach Town until late Friday night. He has no intentions of moving Delectable Dorothy and Sugar Shirley away from Grimsby, but in this new set-up of his company it is impossible for the old Ganderhanks to continue to have an interest in the Peach Kings any more than that his heart and his soul will be behind the team at all times.

It is a far cry from that cold, blizzard night in March of 1923 that I first greeted the Renfrew Razzler to Grimsby. Since that time the String Bean has gone far, socially and in the business world as well as producing hockey champions. He was a Champion himself and he had the brain and the knack of producing champions, for which the people and the sport fans and fanettes of this Great Grimsby Fruit Belt should feel proud.

Congratulations, Pop, and good luck to you in your new position.

Patience is a virtue, and one has to be extremely patient these days, awaiting news of the hockey season which is now only about three weeks away as far as Grimsby is concerned.

Rumors have been circulating about town concerning the hockey picture, most of which have been quite unfounded.

To-day we can report authentically that the Grimsby Peach Kings will ride the ice lanes this winter, and will fly as never before as they again seek championship honors in O.H.A. Senior "B" hockey.

A meeting was held in Brantford last Sunday, with Port Colborne, Fort Erie, Welland, Grimsby, Preston, St. Catharines, Woodstock and Brantford all represented. Considerable time was spent ironing out a vast array of problems, but out of the meeting came the news that in all probability all of these centres with the possible exception of Fort Erie will be competing in a Senior "B" League this winter.

A tentative starting date for the league was established, with Woodstock and St. Catharines scheduled to meet on November 8.

Grimsby is not expected to have a home game before the week of November.

THE GRIMSBY INDEPENDENT

SYNOPTIC HISTORY OF WEST LINCOLN MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

The opening of the new West Lincoln Memorial Hospital brings back memories to everyone. Not a family in the community has been untouched by its Hospital in some way. Only the continued efforts of everyone in the County for the past seven years, led throughout by one courageous man, A. R. "Sandy" Globe, have made West Lincoln Memorial Hospital possible.

Mr. Globe and Dr. J. H. MacMillan, well known Grimsby physician, spoke together on the post office steps one cold day—December 6th, 1942. They talked then about the acute need for a Hospital in this district, where patients and their families had to travel too many miles in case of illness. That was back in mid-war, when overburdened medical men also had to cover many miles to visit the sick. It was then that Mr. Globe took up the staff of Aesculapius, a challenge which he accepted then, and which he has carried through the years, in the face of all obstacles.

By January 14th, 1943, Mr. Globe was able to announce at a Lion's Club dinner that, through the generosity of the late Mr. Charles J. Eames, then of Grimsby and Hamilton, the clubhouse of Deer Park Golf Club, which the latter owned, was available as a gift to be made into a Hospital for this district.

From then on, the project gained momentum. Mr. Globe had already consulted medical men and representatives from the district, all of whom were willing to give it support. A Ladies' Auxiliary was formed from the district. Plans were drawn up for renovations. These were later approved by the Provincial Department of Health.

It was thought in those early days that if $15,000—$20,000 were collected and added to the value of the property, building and contents, a $50,000 project would be the result. However, unalloyed subscriptions came in before any public canvass was undertaken and these, added to the response which public drives continued to bring, along with Government grants, made it possible for the sponsors to enlarge many times on the original Hospital-on-the-Hill, when open for patients January 10th, 1946, had a valuation of $75,000, and was ready to serve the public who owned it.

It is a tribute to all organizations, and individuals of every race and creed in West Lincoln, and beyond, that during those war years, when materials were scarce and money was needed for so many worthy causes, they still recognized the need of having their own Hospital, and were willing to give financial backing to prove it.

That Hospital, during its two years and nineteen days of faithful service, was a source of pride in the district. The catastrophe which demolished it by fire on January 29th, 1948, destroyed the building, but not the spirit of the people, particularly that of Mr. A. R. "Sandy" Globe, who was heard to say even at the height of the fire "We will build another, even bigger and better than this."

That unquenchable spirit never failed in its efforts to bring this new, modern, West Lincoln Memorial Hospital into being. While the Hospital was temporarily housed in Nixon Hall, the construction was under way, and gradually every difficulty was surmounted.

It stands to-day, a $270,000 asset to this community, and a living life-giving monument to lives lost in two wars, and in times between—West Lincoln Memorial Hospital. $222,000—Land and Buildings. $48,000—Equipment and Inventory.

NEW ADDITION FOR NIAGARA SANATORIUM

The monthly meeting of the board of governors of the Niagara Peninsula Sanatorium was held at the Sanatorium last week. Mr. Cecil Secord, appointed by the Province of Ontario as its representative to the board, was welcomed by the chairman.

The board approved plans and specifications for a new addition to provide much needed staff quarters and garage space. Tenders are to be called for from contractors of Lincoln, Welland and Haldimand Counties, and will be received up to Nov. 4th. September current expenditures totalling $21,108.83 were approved for payment.

Dr. C. G. Shaver reported 17 admissions and 14 discharges during the month; 2,402 X-rays were taken and 15 cases of tuberculosis were discovered.

VICTORIAN NURSES HAVE HEAVY MONTH

During September 776 Visits Were Made, 126 Of Them In Grimsby—56 Visits For Cancer.

During September 223 patients received a total of 776 visits, 70 being new patients admitted during the month.

From the 1st to the 12th of the month three of our nurses carried the work with relief assistance for three days until I returned from my vacation.

313 visits were made to patients with long term illness or commonly referred to as the chronically ill, which includes 56 cancer visits. This group continues to receive the largest number of visits in our County. Through intimate day-by-day contact with these patients in their homes the nurse has an unusual opportunity to observe the problems created by long term illness, both for the sufferers themselves and for their families.

The average individual might feel that caring for these patients just becomes routine nursing care, but as public health nurses, we realize that many of these chronically ill patients need not remain in the chronic group, provided all available resources for rehabilitation are made available to the patient. We find also that frequently our most constructive health service has grown out of assistance to the family with the care of chronic illness, for example, that helping now to ease the emotional strain of the young girl whose mother is dying of cancer, may prove far more valuable in terms of her future adjustment and care of her own children, than any amount of prenatal instruction of this same young woman four or five years hence.

140 visits were made to medical and surgical patients, 53 to expectant mothers, 184 to babies and mothers on return from hospital for demonstration bath service and health instruction, 31 visits for the purpose of health supervision. 3 patients were admitted on return from hospital with a total of 22 visits. 42 M. L. I. visits, 23 visits to D. V. A. patients, 15 visits to Bethesda Sanatoria and 5 night calls.

Fees collected include 214 paid visits, 35 part pay making $335.25, M. L. I. 75 cents and D. V. A. cheque for $30.00, making a grand total of $336.00.

Visits made in the various parts of the County were as follows:

CITIZENS ARE ASKED TO PURCHASE POPPIES

November 5th will be "Poppy Day." The week of November 5 to 12th is now known as "Legion Remembrance week." On Poppy Day the Legion start out on their annual campaign.

This year the need is even greater. There are many veterans and families of veterans, here in West Lincoln who are in the low income group. They have been hard hit by the steadily rising cost of living. They just haven't a penny in reserve to meet any emergency which may arise.

The Poppy Fund does not provide a regular source of assistance to those people, but it does enable them to be given help quickly in emergency. The Branch Service officer will then see that the right organization is contacted.

Sickness is a frequent cause for calls on the Poppy Fund, particularly if it is the bread winner who has to go to hospital.

While the Poppy Fund is a national appeal throughout the Commonwealth, the money raised in West Lincoln is used to help local people. This should have a particular appeal to residents here.

While the Fund has this very practical side there is also a spiritual side which should not be overlooked. This is the fact that the poppy over the years has become a symbol of remembrance, and the very fact that people wear a poppy on November 5 to 12th shows that they still recall and appreciate the sacrifice of those men who were killed in the two world wars.

LEGION JOTTINGS

WEST LINCOLN BRANCH, No. 127

The new Memorial Hospital is now open. It is probably the most practical and lasting form of memorial; a reverent monument to our fallen comrades and a benefit to our community. The Legion tender their thanks and appreciation to the Chairman, the Board, the Superintendent, and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hospital for their work in making this "monument" possible. The Legion and the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary are proud of their two-bed ward.

All veterans are asked to attend the Decoration Day Parade and Memorial service at Grimsby and Beamsville. This is the tenth anniversary of the outbreak of war and it is unthinkable that we should forget the sacrifices made by our comrades.

Members of the Lanch will receive parade details. Other veterans are asked to wash the papers. It has been arranged that the next General Meeting of the Branch will be a joint meeting with the Branch Ladies' Auxiliary. Members will be given details in the

SPEAKING OF LIZARDS

Lizards have an amazing variety of physical characteristics. Among the 2,500 species, the smallest is the seven-inch chameleon and the largest the ten-foot monitor. Only two species are venomous—the Gila monster of the U.S.A. and the beaded lizard of Mexico. Some are born alive, others are hatched from hard-shelled or soft-shelled eggs. Although the majority live on land or in trees, a few live in the water. Many feed exclusively on insects, others on plants, and some on smaller animals. Two or three species can "fly" or glide between the branches of trees, others can move each eye independently and a number can change the colour of their skin at will. Some have no legs, others have two, but most species have four, the latter being the only four-legged creatures that, when scared, rise and run on their hind legs.

BEAMSVILLE ROCK TO PROTECT POWER LINES

20,000 Tons Of Stone Placed Around Tower Bases In Burlington Bay As Barrier Against Ice.

Over the past few months, approximately 20,000 tons of rock have been placed in Burlington Bay, around the bases of twelve of Hydro's steel transmission towers which carry 110 kv lines from Burlington Transformer Station across the Bay into Hamilton.

In making this announcement, Hydro Chairman Robert H. Saunders said: "The rock has been placed there to protect the towers from being crushed by ice during the winter months. The job was done last in 1942 but some of the rock was shifted by ice in the intervening years so the decision was made to do it again this year."

The rock was transported from a quarry in Beamsville, about 18 miles away, by truck. It was necessary to build small temporary roads to several of the towers and, in order to gain access to the two deep-water towers situated out in the bay, a special dock was built at the base of one of the towers close to the shore. The trucks were driven onto a barge at this dock and taken out to the two deep-water towers where they dumped their loads. The usual procedure was to carry two or three trucks at one time. The barge was driven by two large outboard motors operating in synchronism.

In all, about 3,000 truck loads of rock were emptied onto the transmission towers, and it is expected that under normal conditions this latest protection against the menace of pack ice should last for many years.

GROWS GIANT CARROT

A new threat to the "Bishop of Paton Street" and other amateur gardeners around town comes from Livingston Avenue in the person of Nick Wyszynski. Nick just isn't fooling around when it comes to growing carrots, and to back up this claim for carrots of the over-size variety, he came to The Independent with one giant measuring thirteen inches long, and ten inches in circumference.

He grew three bushels all of an extraordinary size all on a tiny piece of black loam soil. Nick also grew some tomatoes of the beef-steak variety, and these too were of gigantic proportion, the largest weighing a neat pound and three quarters.

Salvage Yards In The County To Be Licensed At $10 Per Year — Light Session Of County Fathers.

At the October sessions of the Lincoln County Council held on Tuesday in St. Catharines, Warden Leslie Lynburner and the members of council passed a bylaw authorizing the City of St. Catharines to construct a concrete sewer across the Lakeshore Road and Niagara St. in the Township of Grantham.

Both sections of the road are parts of the county road system and the sewer will be laid in tunnels underneath the roadways. The sewer will form part of the trunk sewer to Port Weller. The Council also passed a bylaw licensing, regulating and governing salvage yards within the county and setting the license fee at $10.

Payment of local improvement costs by the county to the Township of Grantham came up for some discussion during the meeting of the Industrial Home Commission yesterday under the chairmanship of Reeve W. L. Patterson of Niagara-on-the-Lake. Grantham had submitted an account of $445 covering local improvement charges for the Orchard Park sewer for the years 1944 to 1949 inclusive together with assessment notices for the land and buildings at the County Home on Ontario St.

The council referred the matter to the County solicitor, Mr. Herman Rogers, for appropriate action if these local improvement charges are not payable by the county and county home property is not liable for taxation.

The grand total of secondary education cost to the County of Lincoln is $48,727.58, the average rate for all schools being $41.04 per pupil day (perfect aggregate attendance).

Reeve Ivan Buchanan of Grantham Township presented the report of the General Administration Committee during the sessions and approval was given to the report of the Road Committee, presented by Reeve Harold Freure of Clinton Township. The report of the Board of Management of the Industrial Home was approved as presented by Reeve W. L. Patterson of Niagara.

During the sessions of the Finance Committee, presided over by Reeve Leonard Hoare of Merriton, they approved a group insurance proposal submitted by four insurance companies, provided the life insurance coverage clause is deleted from the plan. The approval of the council is also subject to the provision that the county can legally pay the employer's portion of the premium cost.

The council decided, at the close of the sessions, not to take any action regarding a resolution submitted for Lincoln's approval by the County of Oxford petitioning the Postmaster General to extend routes of rural mail couriers so that mail might be delivered on every township road, county road and highway on which a person is residing.

DRUNK DRIVER GETS TEN DAYS AND FINED

James Connelly, age 21, who gave his address as Grimsby, bought himself an ancient Essex last week for a hundred dollars, and on Saturday night proceeded to give one of the whackiest demonstrations of drunken driving local police have had to deal with in a long time.

Chief Constable James and Constable MacKenzie gave chase as Connelly went reeling east along Main Street and for some three miles the officers attempted to stop Connelly, who was all over the road, and forced several cars from the road before he was finally stopped east of the Caribou Inn.

Chief James told Magistrate Hallett that every time he pulled along side of Connelly, in an effort to stop him, Connelly refused to stop. When finally apprehended he was arrested and charged with drunken driving, and also with driving without a license. Which item, Connelly stated, he had never owned.

Magistrate Hallett sentenced accused to ten days in the County jail on the drunken charge, and eleven dollars or seven days for failing to have a license. His ancient car was impounded for a period of three months.

HALLOWE'EN

Thanks to the merchants, business men and manufacturers of the town, there will be lots of prizes for those participating in the annual Hallowe'en parade, scheduled for this coming Monday night. Sponsored this year by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, it is hoped that the turnout will be even better than in the past, when the event has been in charge of two good citizens, Bill Fisher and Ray Betts, who managed to keep the parade alive by themselves when no apparent sponsor was available. A debt of gratitude is also due the Niagara Packers for their close cooperation in making the arena available for the event.

It is difficult to understand the attitude of one small manufacturer in town, who refused to assist the Jaycee who called for a small donation. His undying support of the Legion is quite understandable, and certainly this organization is worthy of support, but so are the kids of our town, mister. The kids are what we might term the foundation of to-morrow... the solid blocks of the future.

The parade will form at 6.45, Monday night at the Grimsby Garage and will move from this point to the arena where judging will take place.

BIRTH

An American lady was attempting to move through the heavy traffic in the vicinity of the new hospital on Sunday afternoon, and sticking head out of the car window asked one of the Jaycees directing traffic just what in the heck was going on to cause such a great crowd to form.

"Why it's really nothing," replied one of the traffic directors, you see, this hospital...

"What, haven't you heard," interrupted another director, "Why the mayor's wife is having a baby, and everyone over here turns out for such an event."

The lady was astonished at such a thing, and thought that this settlement should be congratulated for such a fine tribute. We hate to think what she will tell those "civilized" people down in a place called the United States. Personally we hate to think what the good Mayor's wife really thinks about the humour of our Devilish Jaycees.

GROCERY BUSINESS HAS CHANGED OWNERS

John Hewitt, former Reeve of the Town of Grimsby, and a distributor for a large cheese manufacturer, has purchased the grocery business of Hugh J. Dowling, Depot street. Mr. Hewitt is taking possession on Monday of this week.

The grocery, playing a vital part in the area about the C.N.R. has been in operation for a great many years, Andy Stevenson operating it in the year 1947-48, when the business was sold to Mr. Dowling, a retired employee of the Canadian Pacific Shops in Toronto. During his stay here, he, along with his sister, have made a host of friends while maintaining a business of a high standard.

Mr. Dowling plans on "just taking things easy" and may spend the winter in California with relatives.

Mr. Hewitt, well known in Grimsby, is at present making a few minor alterations but the store is open for business as usual for the convenience of its many customers.

REGIMENT REUNION IS TO BE A BIG AFFAIR

Veterans Of The "Lincs And Winks" To Gather In St. Catharines This Weekend—Parade On Sunday.

Highlights of the two-day reunion of the Lincoln and Welland Regiment Association at the St. Catharines armories, October 29 and 30, will be the depositing of the regimental colours in St. George's Church, St. Catharines, and the reunion dinner, with an estimated 700 veterans in attendance at the armories.

The reunion dinner meeting Saturday evening, under the chairmanship of Lt. Col. Charles A. Muir, will probably be the largest single dinner assembly in St. Catharines' history. Accommodation will be arranged on the main floor of the armories. Former commanding officers and other prominently associated with the distinguished record will be speakers.

Sunday afternoon the Lincoln and Welland Regiment, members of the association, and affiliated cadet corps from St. Catharines, Beamsville, Port Colborne, Fenwick and Niagara Falls, under the command of Lt. Col. George R. Greer, will parade from the armories to the St. Catharines cenotaph for a memorial service honoring the regiment's dead.

The parade will proceed to the garrison church, St. George's Church, where, for the first time in nearly 30 years, the colorful and impressive service of the depositing of the colours will be enacted. The colours to be turned over to the custody of the garrison church are those of the former Lincoln Regiment, combined with the Lincoln and Welland Regiment into a single unit in 1936. The last colours to be placed in the church were those of the 19th Battalion in 1920.

Brig. W. D. Whitaker, D. S. O., Hamilton, officer commanding the 4th Canadian Infantry Brigade of which the L and W is a unit, will review the parade and take the salute at the reviewing base on St. Paul Street at the Capitol Theatre.

Other plans for the first annual two-day get-together include entertainment, a regimental band concert and receptions which will allow for reminiscing sessions on the part of the "vets" many of whom are coming from many parts of Canada and the United States and the entire Niagara Peninsula area.

Capt. J. L. Pond, regiment adjutant and association secretary, said letters from former regiment members now residing in various parts of the Dominion indicated wide-spread interest in the reunion which is to be an annual affair in October on the weekend closest to the Battle of Bergen-op-Zoom in Holland in which the "Lincs and Winks" played a leading part with heavy casualties.

WESTERNER PLEASED WITH GRIMSBY GRAPES

Writes His Appreciation To Wm. Palmer — Paid 95 Cents A Basket In Alberta.

That high quality Grimsby grapes have been shipped to the western provinces and sold at a reasonable price to the consumer is evidenced by the following letter which speaks for itself:

Basham, Alberta,
Oct. 10, 1949.

Dear Mr. Palmer:

Have three baskets of your grapes, and must say they are grand. We think Ontario grapes are much better than B.C. grapes.

These cost us 95c per basket, and we have wondered how much the grower would get.

This is a grand Thanksgiving Day.

Respectfully,
M. W. SHARP.
